W. O. GARRETT GETS PRAISE FOR WORK

POLAND CHINA JOURNAL SPEAKS HIGHLY OF MARYVILLE MAN.

TRAVELLED 50,000 MILES

In Past Year Covered Many Miles in Sixteen States—Good Work Done in Nebraska.

W. O. Garrett of Maryville, treasurer of the Poland China Breed Promotoin Committee has traveled 50,000 miles in sixteen different states during the past year in his work, according to a story published in yesterday's issue of the national magazine, the Poland China Journal. The magazine, with a picture of Mr. Garrett, had the following story:

"W. O. Garrett of Maryville, Mo., is treasurer of the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee, and has been ever since its organization in 1920 This position places him on the executive committee of the Promotion Committee with Pres. C. G. McCahan and Sec. P. W. Young. Mr. Garrett is chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Poland China Record Association with offices at Maryville, Mo. Mr. McCahan is one of the directors of the National Poland China Record Association of Winchester, Ind., and is vice president, and Mr. Young is an ex-president and present director of the American Poland China Record Association.

"Mr. Garrett functions in the capacity of a fieldman for the Promotion Committee. During 1922 he traveled in the neighborhood of 50,000 miles in the interests of the committee and the breeders at large. He visited six state fairs where he managed the Poland China Futurity shows, and eight county fairs at which promotion shows were held with the Promotion Committee cooperating. He attended 50 county breeders meetings in 16 different states of the Cornbelt, in the North, West, and South. Four state breeders' meetings were attended also a score or more of small meetings with county agents and farm bureau members in several states, two national swine and stock shows, and 10 executive committee meetings of the Promotion Committee.

"This personal contact made by members of the Promotion Committee is one of the most profitable things it attempts to do. Not only are they rendering a service to individual breeders and to groups of them at a time, but they are on the job when dangers appear. A state fair secretary may get obstinate, and attempt to block a Poland China Futurity show at the state fair. These representatives are there to get him in line, if possible, or to keep him from getting out of line.

"Mr. Garrett has had some knotty problems in this regard during 1922 and while he has not always straightened them out to the breeders' satisfaction, he has them in process of correction."

The same issue of the magazine also contained an article about the Nebraska State Fair board deciding to put on a $600 Poland China Futurity at its 1923 exposition. Mr. Garrett attended the meeting and the Journal said that he argued hard for a $1,000 futurity. The following is an excerpt from that article:

"Much credit for the successful culmination of the efforts which the Breed Promotion Committee has made to establish a Poland China Futurity at the Nebraska State Fair is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Garrett and the cogent arguments he presented at the recent Lincoln meeting. He was ably backed up by the Nebraska Poland China enthusiasts, who attended the meeting with him.

"Mr. Garrett argued hard for $1,000 Futurity, but without avail, and he thinks that he did well to get the $600 show."

SKIDMORE TEAMS NOSE OUT 1 POINT WINS FROM HOPKINS

Boys' and Girls' Basketball Teams Play Close Games at Skidmore Last Night.

Two Skidmore basketball teams nosed out victories last night on their home court by the narrow margin of one point. The high school boys' team defeated the Hopkins boys by a score of 28 to 27. During the same session the Skidmore girls pushed over the line ahead of the Hopkins girls with an 8 to 7 victory. Both were probably the best games that have been played in Skidmore this season. Peoples and Beverlin were the outstanding stars for Skidmore, Peoples netting fourteen points and Beverlin scoring ten. Florea was the outstanding star for the visitors being responsible for nineteen of his teammates' twenty-seven points. Carl Strickler of Mound City, refereed the games.

Tonight the Hopkins town team plays the Skidmore Eagles on the latter's court. The Skidmore high school girls' team will go to Burlington Junction tonight to meet the high school team there and the Skidmore boys will play at Barnard.

BEARCATS LOSE TO JR. COLLEGE 31-18

AT M. H. S. GYMNASIUM LAST NIGHT.

TO PLAY WARRENSBURG

Teachers From C. M. S. T. C. Here After Game With Tarkio Tonight.

The State Teachers College Bearcats lost to the St. Joseph Junior College team last night at the high school gymnasium by a score of 31 to 18. Coach Maynor started the game with his second string forwards and center but shortly before the end of the half he inserted his first string men.

The Bearcats somehow couldn't connect with the goals. They had plenty of shots, more than their opponents perhaps but they couldn't make them good and it takes baskets to win ball games.

Mueller and Laughlin, St. Joseph forwards, were both right and they counted from way out in the court a number of times. Laughlin was high point man, making eight field goals and one free throw.

For the Bearcats Miller was high point man, tallying four field goals.

Bloomfield at center played a good game, while he was in, but his goal shooting was erratic. Too many long passes and bad floor passes were responsible for the inability of the Bearcats to work well their offensive attacks. They were minus a free thrower too, enough gift shots being missed the first half to tie the score. The half ended with them trailing on a 12 to 7 score.

A better brand of basketball will have to be displayed by the Bearcats Saturday night if they expect to make it interesting for the Warrensburg Mules, who will play here. Last night the Mules walked over Missouri Valley College at Marshall to the tune of 44 to 9. Tonight they play Tarkio College at Tarkio.

The score:

ST. JOSEPH (31)	G.	F.T.
Laughlin (f)	8	1
Mueller (f)	5	0
McDonald (c)	2	0
Geddes (g)	0	1
Total	15	1

MARYVILLE (18)	G.	F.T.
Haun (f)	1	0
Brown (f)	1	0
Bloomfield (c)	1	0
Ellis (g)	0	2
Kirby (g)	0	0
Miller (c)	4	0

CITIZENS DON'T "KEEP OFF THE GRASS" AT HIGH SCHOOL

Money Expended and Work Done Last Year to Beautify Campus, But Public Is Thoughtless.

Last spring the agriculture class at the high school started in to improve the grounds around the school building. They spent a good deal of time and money and work improving the campus. They sowed grass seed and planted trees and shrubs, but what has their time and effort amounted to? About half the people that go past the school decide to take a short cut, and they walk across the school yard, instead of keeping on the sidewalk.

The grade pupils and high school students are made to stay on the sidewalk. It is now up to the citizens of Maryville to do the same. The people pay the taxes to maintain the school, and they certainly want the school grounds to be pleasing to the eye. If the trees and shrubbery are given a chance to grow, the high school campus can, in a few years, be in as nice shape as the College campus.

OKLA. MASK BAND MURDER CASE OPENS

TRIPLE KILLING CASE CALLED UP AT ARDMORE TODAY.

TO LINK UP THE K.K.K.

Police Detectives, Bootlegger and His Friend Slain in Trouble There in 1921.

Ardmore, Okla., Jan. 26.—The mask band triple killing case, which occurred at Wilson near here, in December, 1921, was called up in the district court here today.

A preliminary hearing, which ended abruptly last January, because witnesses refused to answer questions relating to the Ku Klux Klan, was resumed in court with ten men being charged with complicity in the killing which resulted in the death of police detective C. G. Sims, Joe Carrol, an alleged bootlegger and John Smith, a friend of Carrol. The following have been charged with complicity in the crime:

J. H. Pitts, C. G. Whitechurch, Frank Ridpath, Ham Hailes, Frank Cardwell, Jeff Smith, Dr. E. C. Harlow, W. L. Hilton, J. B. Smith and J. A. Gilliam.

On the night of December 15, 1921, according to the charge brought out in the preliminary hearing in January last year, a band of masked men scoured Carter County for Joe Carrol, and when he was found at his home, was shot to death in the door. They forced John Smith, alleged to have confessed to activities with illicit whisky dealers, to accompany them at the point of guns, and later left him to die in a field nearby. As a result of his treatment he died a few days later in the hospital.

Sims was killed in a pitched battle in the field, when the "tar and feather" party met with resistance, the testimony in the preliminary revealed.

CAR REPAIRER DEAD, $20,000 DAMAGE IN GAS EXPLOSION

Flames From Lantern Catch Dripping Gasoline in Tank Car in Railroad Yards

Kansas City, Jan. 26—J. Holbrook, a car repairer dead and an estimated damage of $20,000 is the result of an explosion of a gasoline tank car on the Chicago and Alton tracks in the railroad yards here early this morning. There was a terrific explosion and Holbrook, a living torch, was hurled several feet. The flames spread and burned eight other cars before being subdued.

M. E. SOUTH MAY HAVE NEW CHURCH

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE HAS APPORTIONED $25,000 FOR HERE.

MAY START IN SPRING

Church Can Get This Amount by Matching with $25,000 for New Structure

Conditions are now looking very favorable for the erection of a new church edifice for the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Maryville this spring, the Rev. B. F. Cline, pastor of the church, said today in discussing the results of his trip to St. Joseph this week.

"Twenty-five thousand dollars in cash from the Southern Methodist conference, is lying in waiting for the church here to use," said Mr. Cline. "The money has been apportioned for this church and it is theirs if they match an equal amount," he continued. "And it is now up to the church as to what they will do."

Mr. Cline said that he has called meetings to be held next week to discuss the matter and to take final action. If the church members decide favorably on the matter, work will begin on the new structure just as soon as the opening of spring weather will permit. Most of the details of the new structure have been worked out by the architect. The Rev. J. A. Baylor, architectural secretary of Louisville, Kentucky, was in Maryville this fall going over the situation and taking measurements of the ground here preparatory to working out the final draft of plans.

Mr. Cline has been working for some time to secure this apportionment from the Conference for the building of a church here, and deserves much credit in his efforts to bring about a new building. The conference now has agreed to match dollar for dollar, any sum of money that the Maryville church agrees upon, up to $50,000.

Mr. Cline said that the story of the St. Joseph Gazette as reprinted yesterday in the Democrat-Forum was somewhat erroneous in impression. No money wil be apportioned for use in the College here other than that which will make it possible for the College and the Church here to better serve the Southern Methodist students.

It was practically decided at the St. Joseph meeting to erect a new Wesley Community House in St. Joseph in addition to the present structure there. About $50,000 will be spent on the new structure.

WILL HAYS, MOVIE DICTATOR TO COMMENT ON ARBUCKLE

Czar of the Movies Is Expected to Make Statement in Regard to Comedian's Re-instatement

St. Louis, Jan. 26—Will H. Hays, movie dictator will settle America's jumbled mind on the Arbuckle case within the next few days, according to Attorney Pettijohn the distributors of America and right hand man of the czar of the movies today. The Arbuckle case is being intelligently handled and has been since the beginning, said Pettijohn. There are plenty of misunderstandings, he continued, and the public will, after hearing Hays, statement expected within the next few days, appreciate his fairness and ability in the situation in the interest of the public, which he at all times has at heart. The Paramount people have already stricken from its books, one million, five hundred thousand dollars invested in the last three of Arbuckles films.

RUHR IS CIRCLED WITH STEEL RING

FRENCH AND BELGIANS STRENGTHEN MILITARY POSITIONS.

TAKE OVER RAILROADS

German District Quiet on Surface, But Seething Underneath—Rioting Breaks Out.

Essen, Jan. 26.—With a ring of steel gradually encircling the Ruhr and Westphalian industrial zone, the French today began taking over the railroads for military purposes. Absolute control has been imposed on the Dusseldorf-Rheinhausen-Kettwig railroad and it is now used solely for the movement of troops and war materials.

Troops and artillery are being moved throughout the occupied areas, while the French and Belgians continue to strengthen their military positions. Military patrols have been established in most of the cities in the area as a result of the increased rioting of the German populace. Strong military guards have been established over headquarter buildings in Dusseldorf and Essen, and machine guns have been posted in front of these buildings.

Thousands of miners, railroad men and mill workers are still idle, and coal and steel production and railroad traffic is still seriously crippled.

While the Ruhr district is quiet on the surface it is seething with French hatred underneath. Only the activities of the German police have prevented serious fighting. The railroad situation is getting worse, and the car shortage increases daily.

Dusseldorf, Jan. 26.—Violent anti-French riots in which several Germans were hurt, broke out here again today. The flames of the anti-French wrath, which has been smouldering, was shown in the angry German mob gathered on the streets last night. Upon sight of the French cavalry the Germans began shouting epithets and hurling stones at the soldiers, but the cavalrymen fired in the air, and rode through the crowd, dispersing it.

Machine guns and artillery are being placed at strategic points on the outskirts of the city for bombardments if the French, at any time, deem such drastic war measures as necessary.

Tanks rumbled through the streets of Dusseldorf during the morning enroute to the Oberhausen district, where striking German mine and rail workers have been causing much trouble.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

LEGISLATED AND INSPECTED TO DEATH

Congressman H. T. Rainey of Illinois in an adress before a Farmers' convention at Urbana, Ill., drove home some facts that ought to be displayed in twenty-five foot signs over every capitol building in the country. And every legislator would render his constituents a great favor if he would meditate upon these signs day and night. Here are a few of those facts:

In 1897 there were only 167 federal deputies, agents, etc. In 1907 the number had increased to 3,000. But fifteen years later in 1922 there were 30,000 federal inspectors, deputies, agents and such like on the federal payroll.

That increase in inspectors from 167 to 30,000 during the past twenty-five years in the federal service reflects general conditions in state and municipal office holdings. Mr. Rainey says that for two persons engaged in productive labor there is one supported entirely by taxes.

It is apparent that this kind of thing cannot go on indefinitely. It has already gone too far. And yet we find legislators who seem totally ignorant of the fact that someone has to support the ever increasing army of officials that new laws and recently enacted laws bring into being. Things have reached such a stage that there are more inspectors to inspect the inspectors than there were inspectors a quarter of a century ago.

Some day we may learn that there is a limit to funds in the treasury and that two-thirds of the people will refuse to support the other third that are taxeaters.

If legislators would bear in mind what it costs in sweat and money of their darn fool measures, they might sweat mentally themselves before saddling additional burdens upon the workers. For it is the worker who foots the bill.—Omaha World-Herald.

One In Five Million.

Clayton Hamilton, upon his recent return to New York after two years in Los Angeles, said that while he knew nothing about moving pictures when he went out there, he soon began to learn some of the dogmas of picture-making.

For instance, Mr. Hamilton said, when a producer sets about to make a picture play, he must consider that it is intended to appeal to the classes who attend movie theatres. That is, it must interest five million servant-

"Really!" exclaimed Mrs. Hamilton forth.

Mr. Hamilton told his wife about this.

"Did you know, dear," he said, "that a successful moving picture must appeal to ten million shop-girls and five million servant-girls?"

"Realy!" exclaimed Mrs. Hamilton, who had her own domestic problem. "But where are these five million servant-girls?"

Which was rather a puzzling rejoinder to Mr. Hamilton until he hit upon the logical answer:

"Why, they are at the movies, of course."—From Everybody's Magazine for February.

As Others Saw Him.

An old negro from the Southern rural districts had gone to the city seeking employment. Everywhere he went, references were asked for. Finally he gave the names of former employers and in due time returned for a decision. Some of the letters were read to him, in which he was praised very highly and his work and loyalty greatly lauded. The old man's eyes opened wide with surprise and pleasure as he remarked.

Here stand the proud buildings of great financial institutions, in New York's Golden Acre.

Each square foot of land sustains a fabulous valuation and must yield a commensurate return.

There are no great financial institutions located on some streets scarce a stone's throw distant from this favored spot—streets equally blessed with material advantages, but obscure.

Ah! There's the rub—Obscure!

And yet these great financial institutions, paying tremendous sums for the privilege of their place in the sun, maintain that they "do not advertise."

Redl-Campbell Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Melanie Anna Elizabeth Redl of Kansas City to Wesley Dean Campbell took place at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents in Kansas City. The Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor of a Christian Church in Kansas City, read the double ring ceremony in the living room which was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and roses. Little Dorothy Ermine, daintily dressed, served as flower girl. She carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered in the path of the bridal party. Little Harrison Bohm, who carried the rings on a white satin cushion, wore a suit of white satin. The bride was becomingly gowned in white canton crepe. Her veil of tulle was held, coronet fashion with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, blue delphinium, gysophelia and valley lilies. Miss Fern Campbell of Barnard, sister of the bridegroom, who was bridesmaid, was gowned in shell pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of Ophelia rose buds and sweet peas. Mr. Karl Redl, Jr., brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Campbell. Miss Margaret Young played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the processional and was accompanied on the violin by Mr. Elmer Young. During the ceremony "Traumerei" was softly played. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a two course luncheon was served.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Campbell of Barnard. He was a member of the 1921 spring graduating class of the Maryville High School, and last year was a student at the University of Missouri at Columbia, where he was a Sigma Alpha Epsilon. For the last several months he has been employed by the Caroll-Mast Undertaking Company in Kansas City.

THE DOGS TREATED HIM BETTER THAN THE RICH MAN DID

Which Indicates That the Dogs Had Not Been Spoiled by Snobs

(By C. L. Ficklin, Editor Dekalb County Herald, Maysville, Mo.)

The Sunday School lesson for next Sunday, January 28, is about the rich man and Lazarus.

There is one thing that I want to say at the very outset for the rich man, and that is that he seemed to have a pretty good set of dogs. They had some feeling about them. I didn't know what kind of dogs they were. They may have been big dogs on the Collie order, or the Sheperd, or the hound. Some way or other the picture that I have in my mind about them is a sort of a hound picture. They were regular dogs.

And the rich man's daughter didn't have these dogs on her lap. His wife didn't have the best one of the dogs decked out with a gold trimmed collar on his neck, his tail bobbed off so it was just about three quarters of an inch long.

The veterinarian had never been to see these dogs to doctor them for bronchitis or pleurisy. They didn't take naps in a bay buggy. They were not parlor pups.

And there is no record left to show that the rich man's wife and daughter came running out with paint all over their faces to scold the dogs for licking that dirty beggar's sores.

The indications are that they were regular dogs; that they had regular dog sympathies and had not been spoiled by the snobs on the inside of the house.

But after all it's not to a man's credit when about the only discernible good thing about him is the bunch of dogs that he has about him. In this case the dogs were better than the master. They had more compassion. They treated Lazarus better.

This rich man was a fast liver, a high liver. He wore fine clothes. He had big feasts. He was a gay man in his day.

And when Lazarus was laid at his gate he had no pity for Lazarus. Luke does not say that Lazarus was a cripple, or a confirmed invalid, but the fact that he was brought to the gate of the rich man and laid there, carries the idea that he could not walk.

His condition was pitiful.

And the rich man paid no attention to him.

But the dogs did.

This is a swift running story. No body ever said as much in a few words as Jesus could say in a few words.

Just a few words tell us what kind of a man the rich man was.

And just a few words tell us what kind of a man Lazarus was.

Not very much is said about the deaths of these two men. What is said is right significant. The story says that—

"The beggar died."

And it also says:

"The rich man also died, and was buried."

The chances are that Lazarus did not get any funeral. His body had been buffeted about in life and was probably buffeted about in death. The rich man had been plumed and purpled in life and there is no doubt that his old body was dressed up in death too and that he had a big funeral, and soft words were said and soft music rendered, and there was a lot of pomp and splutter about the thing.

But the situation just carried to the Big River.

Beyond the river of death the situation was different.

The words of Jesus about the other side of the river are significant words. They give us a glance at the beyond.

Lazarus moved up to a high reward. The rich man was in torment.

Not much is said about how Lazarus acted about it all. But somewhat more is said about the way the rich man balked and moaned about his situation.

His tongue needed some water on it. He wanted Lazarus to come from the place of bliss and come to the place of torment and water his tongue. Maybe that would have reduced the comfort of Lazarus. But the rich man was not thinking about the comfort of Lazarus—he was still thinking only about himself. Thinking solely about himself was his principal trouble on earth. He was carrying the same gross sin in his soul even beyond the grave.

He wanted to claim kin with Abraham. He called him Father Abraham. He spoke like there was a fine kinship relation between them.

He was trying to work through on Abraham. That's about like trying to get through on your wife's church membership or on the fact that your old maid aunt was always a saint. Calling Abraham "Father Abraham" did not do any good.

And then he had five brothers.

He wanted somebody to go to earth and tell the five brothers.

And still the same old thing, selfishness, was hanging to him. It was that same old prayer we have heard about so long ago, "Lord save me and my wife and my son John."

He is still supremely selfish.

It is all right for a man to want his boys to come to God. It is all right for him to want his wife in the church. It is all right for him to want his brother Jim, and his brother John and his brother Will to come to God. But the man who has no yearning, no missionary yearning beyond the doorway of his own home has not yet learned the first lesson in the great vision that Jesus had and in the very foundational glory of Christianity—and that is its outstretching love for the most faraway man or woman or child.

God loves His own book. Do you value it as highly as Jesus values it in this story? You will notice that the rich man in torment wanted somebody to go back and tell his five brothers in person. But Abraham says, "They have Moses and the prophets."

The rich man undertook to correct Abraham, like a lot of other people try now to correct Moses. He suggested to Abraham that if someone would go from the dead and preach to these five brothers they'd wake up and repent.

But Abraham told him they wouldn't. If people won't hear God's word and repent, then they will not repent at anything, not even if someone should rise from the dead and go to them.

God values His own word. Let us see that we put a supreme value on His word also.

A Jackie Coogan Story.

Little Jackie Coogan, the juvenile cinema wonder, is only a wee bit of a youngster, just at present trying to solve the intricacies of Franklin's "First Reader."

Recently he complained that the big Cooper-Hewitt lights used on the motion-picture sets hurt his eyes, and an alarmed father took him to an oculist.

As usual, the eye-specialist hung up the test-card and then asked Jackie to read the top line, the letters of which were T V Z U E, etc.

There was silence for several moments, and then the specialist exclaimed in surprise.

"Why, my little man, you don't mean to tell me you can't even read those large letters on the top line?"

"Sure I can read 'em," retorted Jackie; "but I can't pronounce it."—From Everybody's Magazine for February.

ELECTRIC POWER LINES NOW COVER MISSOURI

Connected Transmission Wires Practically Tie Entire State Into a Few Communities

The ten years, 1913-1923, have made remarkable changes in the electric map of Missouri, electric service, methods of operation and points of generation and distribution of electric light and power.

A survey made by the Missouri Committee on Public Utility Information shows that of 242 communities reported, with a gross population of 1,568,000, 46 per cent of the total population of the state, are now served by 38 transmission pole lines, covering a distance of 2,240 miles within the state. These are electric distribution lines, each connecting from two to fifty towns and villages, served from one central station generating plant. The 242 towns of Missouri served, practically in total, by a small number of generating power plants connecting and covering the state with transmission systems.

The present development in respect to generation and distribution of power has made 46 per cent of the population of the State of Missouri a community directly interested in the matter of finance for electric public utilities, in the matter of rates and rate regulation. The rapid development of this department of the industry will, within the next few years, throw practically the entire state into a few communities, as far as construction, operation and regulations of the electrical industry may be concerned.

and 1,568,000 people served by these transmission lines are all equally affected by improved service. The large cities as well as the rural communities will secure benefit of economies resulting from this system of operation.

This method, when the density of population justifies, enables all customers to secure electric service at a very reasonable rate. So the rapid development of economical power plant operation in large communities and the economical and efficient development of transmission systems makes possible better service. Future development will show, in all probability, the State of Missouri as an interesting feature of this amazing development is that of hydro electric power in the Ozark region. There is a great hydro-electric plant at Powersite, Taney County, which supplies current to Springfield, Joplin, etc., and which exports a large part of its product to Miami, Fleher and other cities in Oklahoma. Thus Missouri is an exporter of electric current. This company has received a permit from the Federal Water Power Commission for a $15,000,000 hydro-electric addition to its properties near Powersite.

A considerable hydro-electric project is almost completed on the Niangua River, Camden County, 22 miles north of Lebanon. The Ozark region offers possibilities for hydro-electric power that may soon put it upon a plane equal to that of Northern and Western Missouri.

White-of-Egg in Calumet a Vital Element Most Baking Powders Lack

Don't use a leavener that does not contain white-of-egg. When you do you take chances—you run the risk of spoiling your bakings.

CALUMET
The Economy BAKING POWDER

contains a small amount of white-of-egg. This makes it possible for representatives of the company to test it frequently for leavening strength—right on the dealer's counter. Nothing but absolutely fresh stock is permitted to remain on the dealers' shelves. It must always be up to the high Calumet standard.

BEST BY TEST

Remember the white-of-egg in Calumet protects the success of your bakings. It is the economical positive bake-day aid and its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Putting Drama In Its Place

An idea of some of the difficulties under which people throughout the country labor in any attempt to reap profit from judgment and opinion in matters artistic will be gained from the following experience of the late Creston Clarke, the actor.

While playing in a good-sized city, he was approached one day on the street by an eager young man, who said:

"How do you do, Mr. Clarke? I saw your performance last night. I'm on the Star."

"Oh!" said Mr. Clarke. "And how do you like newspaper work?"

"I think it's fine," replied the youth. "I'm just starting in at it. I'm only dramatic critic now, but if I do well they're going to give me police work."—From Everybody's Magazine for February.

No Preacher Shortage.

Stevens county has a small but rather remarkable colored settlement. It was founded in the early eighties. Nearly every family lives in its own homestead. Their crops of maize, broomcorn and watermelons never fail in this favored district. Many of them are in independent circumstances.

"How many families have you in the settlement, uncle?" we asked a venerable old member of the race.

"Why, nephew," he replied, "there are summas about 60."

"You must have a hard time getting preachers," we again ventured, having in mind the racial love of religious exercise.

Former War Lord and Two Months Bride Are Said to Have "Fallen Out" at Home in Doorn

London, Jan. 26—After slightly more than two months of married life of the former Kaiser and his bride, the former Princess Hermine, has broken down, according to dispatches printed in newspapers here today. Wilhelm and the Princess are said to be occupying different parts of their house at Doorn. The former war lord appears most dejected.

Wilhelm and Princess Hermine were married November 5, less than two years after the death of his first wife, Augusta Victoria at Doorn. Following their marriage they settled down at Doorn and from all outward appearances were enjoying the fullest wedded bliss.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE SECRET OF GLAMIS CASTLE

THE grim walls of Glamis castle, in Scotland, have concealed a mystery for a number of centuries—concealed it so well that no hint of what it is or whence its origin, has ever been definitely brought to light. But that the existence of the secret is well known throughout the kingdom is apparent from Sir Walter Scott's reference to a secret chamber in the castle which "by the law or custom of the family, must be known only to three persons—the earl, the heir and the third in the line of succession!" "The popular version," adds the famous novelist, "is that there is some horrible remembrance connected with the secret which has existed for the past two or three hundred years."

One writer claims that the mystery concealed in the secret chamber was a human being—half frog and half man—and recounts the story of the Countess of Glenshire, who finally succeeded in penetrating to the hidden room, only to die of horror at what she found there. This story, while apparently well authenticated by writers of the period, has little foundation in fact—apart from the detail of the sudden and unexplained death of the countess, who may have come to her end in any one of a number of ways, and, in order to cover up the manner of her assassination or accidental death, it is more than possible that the story of the "chamber of horrors" was spread broadcast through the surrounding country.

Another version of the secret of the castle appears in an old history of Scotland, where it is stated that "there is one chamber in the castle in which, some centuries ago, two gamblers were walled in and condemned to continue their ghostly play, and where the rattling of the dice is still to be heard. The earl of Strathmore and his eldest son, Lord Glamis, must each hear this once, and it is related that the present lord has not forgotten the effect it had upon him." But, unless stage-managed in a manner worthy of Belasco—with bluish lights, skeleton hands, and a dice box suspended in mid-air—it is hard to see how the mere sight of a room where a not unusual torture was practiced centuries ago, could have such a profound effect upon those who visited it, nor how it would lead to such extreme measures for the preservation of secrecy.

Still another story, and one which appears to possess elements of horror and at least an approach of plausibility not to be found in the other legends, is that which appeared in print in England only a few years ago:

"In the Castle of Glamis," stated the writer, an eminent authority on such subjects, "is a secret chamber which holds (or is reputed to hold) a monster who is heir to the title and property, but who is so hideous that it is necessary to keep him out of sight and possession. The secret is known to only three persons, because, as the deformed man is the rightful earl of Strathmore, he must be concealed in order to safeguard the title of the present earl, but the same misshapen aspect which renders his imprisonment essential has also prolonged his life far beyond the appointed span.

"That there is a secret room in the castle is a fact well known, not only in the neighborhood, but to all who have made an examination of the structure. Placed below the level of the ground, it is apparently reached through a staircase, concealed behind the paneled walls of one of the many large rooms on the first floor. Those who retail the story of the monster supposed still to inhabit this chamber declare that it is half reptile and half human, thus accounting for the fact that it has survived far more than the usual span of a man's life—while others declare that the creature died years ago, but that its mummified body remains as a warning to the new heirs that their tenancy of office is founded on deception, for the tales about the chamber agree in only one particular, that its occupant is the true earl of Strathmore."

The truth or falsity of these suppositions has never been settled, but the fact remains that Glamis castle hides a secret of some kind, which will never be disclosed until the old pile is torn stone from stone.

Tarantula Bite Not Fatal.

Von Fuerth considers that the bite of the historically famous Italian tarantula is able to cause no more than local inflammation, while the toxicologist Kobert was unable to discover profoundly poisonous properties in the supposedly more dangerous Russian tarantula, Eurypelma steindachneri, a species reaching the formidable looking adult size of more than two inches in length. It has been exonerated from the reputation long attaching to it.

Baerg of the University of Arkansas has subjected both animals and man to attack by the fangs of active tarantulas. Although the accounts do not give the impression that such encounters are painless performances, they are put in the category of bee sting in severity rather than in a class of more menacing toxins. Even bees may produce fatalities; yet they are rarely classed among the greater dangers to life.—Journal of American Medicine.

MARYVILLE YOUNG MAN ASKS IT BE KEPT QUIET

Grant City Paper Says Carl Wyman Was Shot in Head Near Parnell

The Worth County Tribune of Grant City had the following this week:

Carl Wyman received a bullet wound this morning that, had it been half an inch lower, would have resulted fatally. He and Judge P. W. Motsinger were on the road to near Parnell to buy horses. They stopped at the John Morin home west of the Batson bridge to inquire the way going to the east side of the house where they talked with Mrs. Morin. The hog-oiler man was also there. After getting directions they started to leave and were followed by the hog man. When about thirty feet from the house with Judge Motsinger slightly in the lead Carl turned to look at the salesman. As he turned a bullet from the upstairs window hit him on top of the head where it made a mean looking wound. Just after entering it was deflected by the skull and came out about three inches from where it entered. It went through his cap which he had on at the time. Miss Morin and a young man from Maryville were upstairs and the young man came down at once asking that the matter be kept quiet. Mrs. Morin ran into the house and got bandages to dress the wound. The young man made no explanation of how the gun came to be fired. Carl and Judge Motsinger at once returned to Grant City were Dr. E. B. Dunkeson dressed the wound. They look for an explanation today or tomorrow.

B. J. WILL VOTE SOON ON WATER PROPOSITION

Petition for Election Given Tuesday Night—Election Date to Be Decided.

(Burlington Junction Post).

Citizens of Burlington Junction will vote soon on the proposition of constructing a modern water and sewer system here, the city council having taken favorable action on a petition asking for the election, which was presented at the regular meeting held Tuesday evening. Just when the election is to be held, with some other details, will probably be decided at an an adjourned meeting of the council which is to be held on Friday evening of this week.

The proposition of installing a water system was defeated at an election two years ago, the reason being given by many who voted against it that they would be in favor of voting for water and a sewer system together, but that they were opposed to installing a water system without a sewer system too. This difficulty was done away with by those who drew up the petition presented to the council Tuesday night, in that it specifies that both water and sewer systems are to be voted on.

Entire Day Spent in Stormy Debate On Resolution to Increase Force

Jefferson City, Jan. 26—By a vote of 83 to 25, a resolution increasing the clerical force of the house from 124 to 150 members was adopted after almost an entire day of story debate.

When the house session opened Thursday, Representative Dick Dale, chairman of the clerical force committee, introduced the resolution increasing the clerical force by adding twenty-six new members. This precipitated a debate that lasted until a late hour today and which grew heated as it progressed. Representative Dale explained that the chief clerk had placed twenty-six additional clerks at work, that they were necessary to handle the work, and that the chief clerk would pay the additional twenty-six clerks out of his own pocket but would discharge them if the house failed to authorize the increase.

The question was then argued pro and con by a score or more of the house members.

Representative Roney, Democrat, brought the debate to a close last night by declaring that "the horse-play of the morning cost the state more money than the salaries of the clerks to be added would amount to," figuring the time of the representative wasted in argument of the matter.

He also asserted that the time of making up the record of the proceedings of the house was already ten days delayed.

Adoption of the resolution was successful when the vote was called despite the opposition of a great number of both majority and minority members of the house.

In the debate yesterday majority Floor Leader Bates declared that he was opposed to any attempt to place more clerks on the pay roll and said that some clerks who have not reported had been given an oportunity to go to work.

Representative Job stated that "there were clerks who had never worked since the beginning of the session and that if every clerk would work there would be twenty-seven more than needed."

Use a winter oil and save motor troubles

THE oil you used last summer won't do now. You should be using a winter oil.

Sunoco Motor Oil is made in six types, one of which is exactly fitted to your particular car in cold weather. And in addition Sunoco has these definite advantages as a winter oil:

1—Sunoco flows freely in cold weather because it contains no paraffine wax to make it sluggish. At low temperatures it lubricates thoroughly, saves your battery and makes hand cranking unnecessary.

2—Sunoco absorbs water. This means freedom from scored cylinders, broken oil pumps and cracked crankcases caused by the water that condenses in the crankcase.

We will gladly drain the old oil from your crankcase and refill with the type of Sunoco recommended for winter use in your car. This service is free. Our only charge is for the new oil.

AMORTIZED FARM LOANS

In addition to the regular term loans, we are now making FARM LOANS on the AMORTIZATION PLAN

$65.00 per $1,000.00, payable semi-annually ($32.50 at the end of each six months) fully pays your loan in 34½ years.

Privilege is granted of paying on the principal at the end of two years and at the end of every six months' period thereafter, not only reducing the principal, but shortening accordingly the final maturity of your loan.

Ours are by far the best and most favorable terms and conditions upon which AMORTIZED LOANS were ever offered to the farmers of Northwest Missouri.

REMEMBER, too, we are still making TERM loans, as always, at the lowest rates of interest (now 5 per cent and a reasonable commission) and with the most liberal terms of prior payment.

It will afford us pleasure to discuss your farm loan needs with you at any time.

Ours has advantages over other plans of Amortized loans in that—

(1). Payments are figured on a lower interest rate.

(2). You are not liable for your neighbors' debts.

(3). You don't have to pay us $25.00 or any other amount when application is taken, to be retained by us if loan is declined.

(4). You don't have to ask us what you can do with the money.

(5). You don't have to live on your farm. We loan on tenant occupied farms.

(6). You don't have to buy stock in this or any other company in order to get a loan.

(7). We offer more favorable privileges of prior payment.

(8). Your loan (principal and interest) is payable HERE—not in St. Louis or New York.
